Unique look of generic dolls

Kiev: Kiev-based artist Olga Kamenetskaya is very popular among doll collectors for her ability to turn generic dolls of all shapes and sizes into unique works of art, some of them so-realistic looking you could swear they were real people.

Like most girls, Olga used to love playing with dolls as a child. She rediscover her fascination with them a few years ago, after seeing a commercial for Monster High Dolls. One day, Olga spotted about the detailed handwork on doll which was an OOAK (One Of A Kind). She spent a whole year researching and watching tutorials online before taking up a brush and trying it herself. Kamenetskaya repainted her first doll in 2013, and has been doing it ever since. From transforming them into doll versions of celebrities like Clara Delevigne, Kevin Spacey or Natalia Vodianova, to creating realistic versions of popular mass-produced and there's no limit to the young Ukrainian's talent.

'Escape Room' game

Paris: Evidence Immobiliser, a real-estate agency in Montpelier, France, has become the first in the world to revolutionise the apartment viewing experience by turning it into an exciting "Escape Room" game where potential buyers have to look for clues and solve puzzles, while at the same time discovering the layout of the place. Whether you're looking to rent or buy a new apartment, the initial viewing is a very important part of the process. One real-estate agency in France wants to change that, and their first attempt has been attracting a lot of attention from French media. They've teamed up with an Escape Room game designer in Montpelier to turn one of their available apartments into an interactive experience for potential buyers. Instead of being walked through all the different rooms and having to listen to a real-estate agent talk about all the amenities and characteristics of the apartment in an overly positive way, the 'Escape House' viewing lets you discover everything yourself, while keeping you entertained.

Collection of excess parking fees at Brindavan Gardens

Sir,

With reference to the above subject, my letter had appeared in these columns on 22.05.2015, almost two and a half years ago where I had written about the excess parking fee collected by the staff of toll and parking fee collection centres at Brindavan Gardens.

Recently I had been to Brindavan Gardens once again on a four-wheeler and I was dismayed to find that the situation has not changed and has remained the same. At the collection centre, the staff asked me to pay Rs. 30 as parking fee. I firmly told them that I'll pay only Rs. 25 in accordance with the display board. Then the person promptly issued me a parking ticket for Rs. 25 and I paid the same and entered the Gardens.

This shows the aapathy of the authorities of Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited, Mysuru. I appeal the authorities to protect the visitors from being exploited.

Two groups protest over unveiling of Ambedkar's statue at Town Hall

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (US&SPN)- With Town Hall premises getting ready for the unveiling ceremony of Ambedkar's statue today, two groups staged separate protests at the premises last night each contradicting the other's stand.

A group of Corporators led by Mayor Bhagyavathi staged a stir opposing the unveiling of the statue in a hurry.

Bhagyavathi took a strong objection to PWD officials in hurriedly organising the unveiling ceremony without bringing to the notice of the Mayor, Deputy Mayor or MCC Commissioner which was against the accepted rules.

Former Mayor Purushotam recalled that CM Siddharamaiah had informed that all the Corporators would be invited for the unveiling function. He objected to the plan of organising the function in a hurried manner without informing anyone.

Former Mayor M.J. Ravikumar was present.

DSS condemns

Members of Dalit Sangharsha Samithi (DSS) staged a counter protest opposing the stand of the Mayor-led group. They recalled that the unveiling ceremony had been already postponed four or five times.

They contended that the function was organised in a hurry as poll dates could be announced any moment implementing the code of conduct. They also said that the MCC officials and Corporators have been informed on phone. They hence appealed the Mayor-led group not to object the proposed function.

Rahul's road show at Chamarajanagar

Chamarajanagar, Mar. 25 (SS&DM) - Accusing the ruling BJP at the Centre of making efforts to change the Constitution, AICC President Rahul Gandhi asserted that the Congress will not let this happen, come what may.

Addressing the party's 'Janashirvada' rally at Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Stadium here yesterday, Rahul alleged that the Modi Government which had refused to waive farm loans, had waived off Rs. 2.5 lakh crore of public money to benefit a handful of the rich.

Pointing out that on the other hand, the Congress Government in Karnataka had set aside huge funds for Irrigation, education, health and agri sectors, Rahul maintained that the Congress Government had waived off Rs. 8,000 crore of farm loans.

Claiming that the previous BJP Government misused public money through corrupt practices, the AICC President said that the Congress Government had provided rice to the poor under Anna Bhagya, milk under Ksheera Bhagya and free cycles and books to students, among others.

The State Government will also provide free education to girls till they complete their Post-Graduation, he added. Chief Minister Siddharamaiah in his address, listed out his Government's programmes during the last five years.

Highlighting the reasons why his Government should be re-elected in the upcoming Assembly polls, Siddharamaiah maintained that he ensured a stable and corruption free governance.

Claiming that his Government put the State firmly on the path of development, apart from coming out with much needed welfare programmes like Matru Poorna and Indira canteens to address the food and nutritional needs of the poor, Siddharamaiah said his Government's waiver of farm loans to the tune of Rs. 8,500 crores benefited 22 lakh farmers in the State.

The CM also lashed out at Prime Minister Narendra Modi and State BJP Chief B.S. Yeddyurappa for making baseless charges against the State Government. He said that PM Modi who comes to Karnataka does not speak of development works, but disappears after making baseless allegations.

AICC President Rahul Gandhi is seen standing on the foot-board of the bus and greeting people during the road show in Chamarajanagar.

'Curse' Exorcised: CM

By visiting Chamarajanagar on nine occasions since he became the Chief Minister five years ago, Siddharamaiah said he had exorcised the 'curse' surrounding the visit to the town by a Chief Minister.

Maintaining that he has emerged, stronger over the years after visiting Chamarajanagar, a town which many considered as 'Jinxed', Siddharamaiah said "I have visited the town nine times and am completing the five-year term in office."

Referring to former CM Yeddyurappa's failure to visit the town even once, the CM said in future, all Chief Ministers should visit Chamarajanagar and ensure its all round development.

Rahul holds road show

After the rally, Rahul took part in a road show passing through the main thoroughfares of Chamarajanagar town. Rahul Gandhi who boarded the party's 'Janashrivad Yatra' Bus, began his road show from the Travellers Bungalow in the town and passed through Sultan Shariff Circle, KSRTC bus stand, Bhuvaneshwari Circle, Deviation Road and Santemarahalli Circle.

Thousands of people who stood along the streets of the town, greeted Rahul, who sat in the front row of the bus for most part of the road show.

However, at Santemarahalli, Rahul stood at the foot-board of the bus and waved his hands at the crowd, which was eager to have a glimpse at him.

As a large number of people moved at once to have a closer look at Rahul, the Police had to resort to mild lathi charge to control the surging crowd. After Siddharamaiah, the AICC President held similar road show at Yelandur on the way to Kollegal.

At Kollegal: Rahul after holding a road show in prominent thoroughfares of the town, inaugurated an Indira canteen and had his food there.

KPCC President Dr. Parameshwara, Congress leader in the LS Mallikarjun Kharge, Ministers D.K. Shivakumar and Geetha Mahadevaprasad, MPs R. Dhruvanarayan and K.H. Muniyappa, MLAs C. Puttarangashetty, S. Jayanna and R. Narendra, MLC N. Dharmasena, leaders B.K. Hariprasad, Dr. Pushpa Amarnath, A. Siddaraju, Guruswamy, Munna and others were present.

A.R. Krishnamurthy joins Congress

Chamarajanagar, Mar. 25- At the rally, former MLA and ex-State BJP SC Morcha President A.R. Krishnamurthy joined the Congress. Rahul calls JD(S) Janata Dal Sangh Parivar

Malavalli, Mar. 25- Three days after calling the Janata Dal (Secular), the BJP's 'B' team at a rally in Hassan, AICC President Rahul Gandhi continued his attack on the party, calling it 'Janata Dal Sangh Parivar!'

Addressing Congress workers at Sri Kanaka Dasa Stadium here during the party's 'Janashirvada' Yatra at Malavalli yesterday, Rahul said the 'S' in the JD(S) stood for not 'Secular', but for 'Sangh Parivar'!

Alleging that the 'Janata Dal Sangh Parivar' had already decided to help the BJP in the coming Assembly elections, Rahul Gandhi said whether it would be a 'B' team, 'C' team or any other teams, the Congress will defeat the Opposition parties by showcasing the party's achievements in the elections.

Praising Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and his welfare schemes, Rahul reiterated that the JD(S) was in an tacit alliance with the BJP and asserted that the Congress would win the forthcoming Assembly polls.

Launching a tirade against Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his NDA Government, Rahul accused the PM of failing to fulfil poll promises, which included creation of jobs. Rahul appealed the people to re-elect the Congress for carrying forward the party's development agenda.

Congress leader in Lok Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge, KPCC President Dr.G. Parameshwara, Working President Dinesh Gundu Rao, former Minister and former MP G. Madegowda, MLAs P. Narendra Swamy and Satish Jarkiholi and others were present.

Kalamandira

An Abode of Art

Chintana Chavadi, shaped like a well where people can have a 360-degree view of speakers and participants, is a new addition to Kalamandira that has, over the years, grown to be a hub of art and culture. Along with Chintana Chavadi, a beautiful heritage garden is coming up at the same premises adding to the existing list of iconic sections like Bhoomigeeta, Vanaranga, Sriranga, Kiru Rangamandira, Maneyangala and Dundu Kana. This Weekend Star Supplement presents Kalamandira on a platter — for you to have information about one of the most-loved and most-frequented art destinations in Mysuru.

Where art is celebrated and worshipped

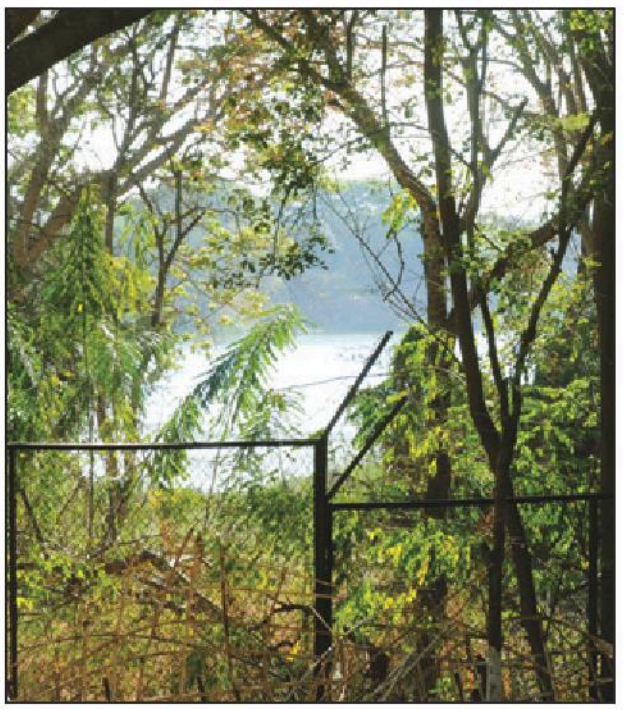
By N. Niranjan Nikam

Kukkarahalli Lake on Hunsur Road opposite Deputy Commissioner's Bungalow is a destination that is throbbing with life. A brainchild of former Chief Minister late R. Gundu Rao, the building that stands out is aptly named 'Kalamandira' — 'A Temple of Art.'

Gundu Rao, who had studied in Mysuru and had a great affinity for the place and had a dream that all cultural activities must happen here including dance, drama, art shows and Kalamandira today has lived up to his dreams.

But when the novel building (for those times) was being constructed, there was stiff opposition from many intellectuals in Mysuru as they felt that the serene atmosphere of Kukkarahalli Lake would be destroyed. However, Gundu Rao sanctioned the land for the project and it was completed in 1985 when Ramakrishna Hegde was the Chief Minister.

Earlier, Kalamandira was under the supervision of Karnataka Exhibition Authority and it was handed over to the Kannada and Culture Department on 15.12.1989. The Department is maintaining Kalamandira since then.



RANGA SAMAJA

Establishment of Ranga Samaja in 1994 ushered in a new orientation for the activities of Rangayana. The Samaja took the initiative of making Rangayana on par with the national and international institutions having similar objectives and to make Rangayana the repertory of Karnataka.

Ranga Samaja has invited theatre experts, researchers, playwrights, directors, actors and troupes and has arranged theatre workshops, writing and directing plays, besides conducting seminars, conferences, theatre festivals and exhibitions.

Not only this, the Ranga Samaja has been collecting materials pertaining to theatre, theatre documentation, conducting research and to disseminating information, publishing new Kannada plays in addition to translating other language plays to Kannada.

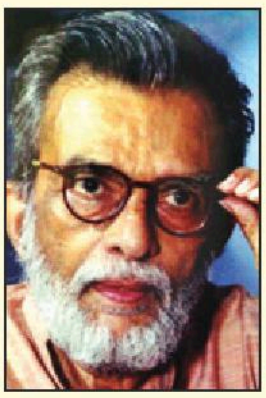
THE GENIUS THAT IS B.V. KARANTH



Kalamandira premises acquired a halo of its own once renowned theatre and film personality and creative genius B.V. Karanth started Rangayana in 1989 at the cellar of Kalamandira using each and every available space. Rangayana has imbibed Karanth's imagination, vision, brilliance, and dream along with the hard work of the artistes, technicians and staff.

C. Basavalingiah and Prasanna, Chidambara Rao Jambe B. Jayashree and Lingadevaru Halemane who became Rangayana Directors subsequently have worked very hard to build a strong foundation to this institution and expanded its scope and horizon.

Rangayana was visualised in such a way that its activities were not to duplicate other theatre companies. Right from the process of selection of artistes, Rangayana had to follow innovative methods. As a result of this meticulous method, the focus was more on the raw energetic artistes, mostly from rural areas from the nook and corner of Karnataka, who had unbound enthusiasm in joining Rangayana.

UNIQUE AMBIENCE

The present Rangayana Director Bhagirathi Bai Kadam, who has travelled around the country and seen some of the best places vouches, "The ambience that is seen in Kalamandira and the uniqueness of Rangayana as the only theatre repertory in the country is something that I have not seen anywhere else."

This thought is echoed by not only the Rangayana artistes, who are all very fine and acclaimed actors and the people working in the office, but also by the Officers of Kannada and Culture Department that is housed in Kalamandira.

GEETA AND RANGAS OF KALAMANDIRA

The magic of Kalamandira (Rangayana) became visible as the intimate theatre 'Bhoomigeeta' (the name coined from Gopalakrishna Adiga's poem 'Bhoomigeeta') with a 210 seat capacity opened and 'Vanaranga' (600 seat capacity) (literally meaning theatre in the garden) sent Mysureans into raptures as they watched many acclaimed plays under the starlit sky with the beautiful backdrop of Kukkarahalli Lake.

As one enters Bhoomigeeta, he/she finds a board that reads, "Jagave Nataka Ranga, Ranga Mantapavidu Adara Pratibimba' meaning 'the whole world is a stage and the stage here is its reflection.'

Vanaranga has no seats and everyone has to sit on the stone benches with no backrest. But once the play begins, be it 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' or a 'Kusuma Bale', the audience forgets all the discomfort and gets immersed in the plays.

Apart from 'Bhoomigeeta' and 'Vanaranga', there is 'Sriranga' that can seat 100 people and is suitable for small gatherings to hold intensive discussion on theatre. It is a place for small seminars where the audience can have one-on-one discussion with theatre personalities.

Then there is 'Kiru Rangamandira' which literally means small theatre when translated in Kannada. It has a seating capacity of 207 and the place has hosted many plays from historical to modern adapted ones. Kalamandira has a seating capacity of 1,201 persons and then there is 'Maneyangala', an air-conditioned facility on the first floor of Kalamandira. 'Maneyangala' has a seating capacity of 100 and is a favourite place for seminars and book releases. One more section 'Suchitra Art Gallery' inside Kalamandira is a must visit for art lovers. This place plays host for hundreds of exhibitions throughout the year and is a sought-after place to attract people towards painting. The place buzzes with activity during the annual Bahuroopi Theatre Festival.

The latest addition to the abode of art is the 'Chintana Chavadi' which literally means the place for thinking. It is shaped like a well where people can have a 360-degree view of the speakers and participants. This is where monthly interaction with achievers from all walks of life is regularly held.

KINDARAJOGI

The imposing statue of Kindarajogi on Rangayana campus is an added attraction for visitors. The statue has an important place in the history of Rangayana. It was displayed at a Dasara Exhibition decades ago. The Kindarajogi statue was later installed at Rangayana to mark its milestone production — "Bommanahalliya Kindarajogi" directed by B.V. Karanth, founder-director of the repertoire.

Rangayana Joint Director V. N. Mallikarjunaswami recalls how Karanth converted a rocky terrain, full of snakes and scorpions into a thriving theatre repertory. "Karanth used to take us to bus stands and markets to watch beggars or prostitutes and learn the way they walked, talked and interacted. It was a live demonstration for us and we learnt so much from him," says artiste Santosh Kumar Kusanoor, who now is in charge of Bharatiya Ranga Shikshana Kendra.

KALA DARSHINI: Some food for thought

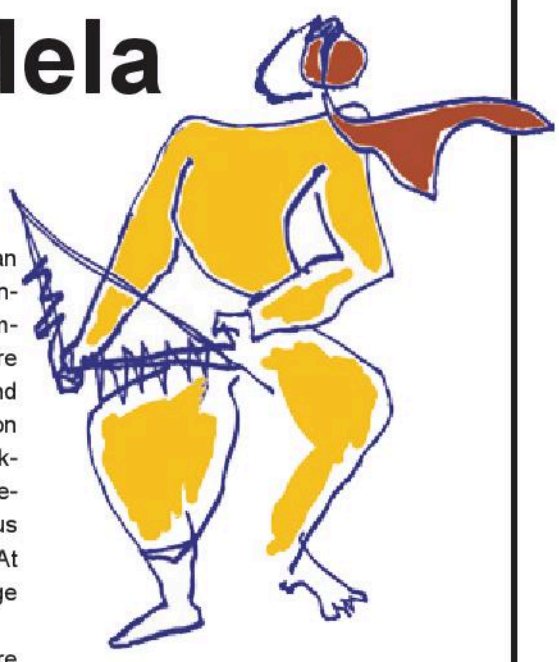
The name Kala Darshini is quite misleading because it does not serve any fast food like the Darshinis are known for. It is a 'mess' situated at the Eastern Gate on the road that connects Kukkarahalli Lake Road and Hunsur Road.

The place is in a rundown condition and the person who has taken over the place just two weeks ago says that he and his wife cook breakfast, lunch and dinner for 35 students of Rangayana. "Hardly anybody comes here even when they come to watch the plays. We just serve coffee and tea and soft drinks," said Ananth, who runs the mess.

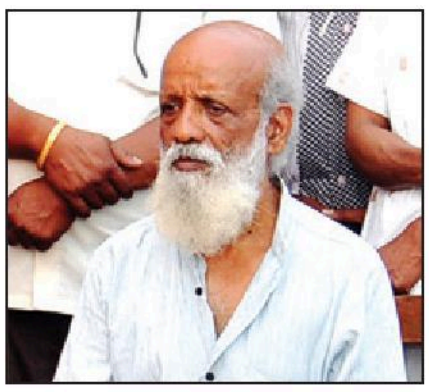
Mime Ramesh who is still teaching in Rangayana after his retirement said that the place could definitely do with a facelift. "The Rangayana canteen was earlier run in the place next to Sriranga theatre and it is now closed. Both Rangayana and Kalamandira people should come together and see to it that a good restaurant is run on the serene campus," he said.

Bahuroopi and Chinnara Mela

Art for the young and old



Among the noted annual events held at Rangayana are Bahuroopi National Theatre Festival, Chinnara Mela, Havyasi Natakotsava, Navaratri Rangotsava and College Rangotsava.



Bahuroopi is the flagship programme of Rangayana. Former Rangayana Director Prasanna was the one who gave Rangayana a big push with his new concept and idea Bahuroopi. When it was started in 2001, it was called 'Akka' in its maiden attempt. But following its success, Prasanna named it Bahuroopi in 2002 and the moniker has stuck since then.

The logo of Bahuroopi was designed by well-known artist K.K. Hebbar. In the beginning, the week-long theatre festival used to be held in the last week of December. It was also a five-day festival once. But now, the week-long festival is held from Jan.14, every year.

The seven-day drama festival is a feast to Mysureans as plays from many languages from across the country are staged. Some of the leading lights in the world of cinema and stage have inaugurated the festival and they include the likes of Amol Palekar and Jnanpith Awardee Girish Karnad.

If summer holidays are here, can Chinnara Mela be far behind? Chinnara Mela is among the popular summer camps in Mysuru. Many events are organised to help children to think and act creatively. They will get hands-on experience in pottery, handicrafts making and weaving during the camp. Besides, there will be sessions by various experts and artistes of Rangayana. At the end of the camp, the children stage a play.

Experts in the fields of native culture and folklore are the resource persons at the camp and children would also be exposed to other forms of art and culture, including theatre, dance and handicrafts. The mela is open for children in the age group of 7 to 14 years. The participants of the camp will be encouraged to think and act creatively.

The 20th edition of Chinnara Mela will begin from next month (April). It was started in 1997 when C. Basavalingiah was the Director and it has grown in leaps and bounds as the parents camp overnight outside Rangayana premises to seek admissions to their wards into the camp.

HERITAGE GARDEN

The whole seven-acre campus is neatly maintained and the Kalamandira frontage is getting a facelift with a heritage garden planned — which again will be built with a cost of Rs. 20 lakh under the Corporate Social Responsibility funds of Bharatiya Reserve Bank Note Mudran Private Ltd. (BRBNMPL), the Reserve Bank of India's currency printing press in Mysuru. The works on heritage garden was launched on Mar. 22

Assistant Director of Kannada and Culture Department H. Chennappa, said, "Kalamandira's serene atmosphere and the surroundings calm one's mind and body. We have planned many attractions as we want people to enjoy every moment when they step into the place."

Of the 365 days, Kalamandira remains active for almost 300 days. However, one sore point is that even if one books Kalamandira in advance for any cultural programme and if there is a government event that is fixed, then it takes precedence and the private programme is cancelled.

AMPLE PARKING SPACE

If one ambles into the seven-acre Kalamandira campus and sees the earthy-looking Rangayana with board displayed "No Plastic or Flex Board on Rangayana Premises," one realises how environmental conscious the people running the place are. Unlike other theatres located in the heart of a city, Kalamandira has ample parking space and can accommodate cars and two wheelers. Many people drive down to Kalamandira and Rangayana to attend various cultural events as they do not have to run around to park their vehicles. Even if the parking inside is full the wide road by the Kalamandira side has enough space to park.

'Save the Sparrow' campaign launched in city

Mysuru, Mar.25 (MTY&KS)- 'Save the Sparrow,' a State-wide campaign to inspire people to make more efforts to bring back the humble Sparrow, which were once found in large numbers in urban places, was launched in front of Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple at the North Gate of the Mysore Place here this morning.

The campaign was launched by like-minded people, who also distributed about 200 artificial bird nests made of wood and grain packets to those interested to be put up at their houses.

Speaking on the occasion, Bhagyalakshmi, a wildlife conservationist, said that the population of Sparrows which were once found in large numbers had declined rapidly due to various reasons and mainly because of lack of nesting places following urbanisation where trees are chopped down by various authorities citing developments.

One of the organisers said that the idea was to earmark a day for the House Sparrow to spread the message of conservation and mark a day to appreciate the beauty of common biodiversity which is generally taken for granted and added that the easiest thing one can do is to put bird feeders outside their houses. Water feeders and bowls will help the birds re-hydrate, she said.

The organiser said that Sparrows can live anywhere even in bus stands, Railway Stations, gardens, schools and parks and added that they (Sparrow) are known to live in colonies and survive on food grains and tiny worms besides stating that they want to bring the Sparrows back to the city which is still green when compared to other cities.

The organisers will take down the addresses of people who have taken the artificial nest and volunteers will visit their places once in two months so that the nest and feeder are put to use and not kept as show pieces.

Bhagyalakshmi, Gayathri, Nandini, Koushik Bharadwaj, Manohar Nayak, Salman Khan, Amal George and Shashank of Indian wildlife explorers, Savitha Venkatesh and Sheela Urs of Inner Wheel Club of Mysore Midtown, Sowmya, Josheela Jayaprakash of Inner Wheel Club of Mysore Central and others were present.

The Congress chief said he wanted the party to be an instrument of dialogue with people from all corners, all religions, all ethnicities, all ages and gender.

He also advised State party leaders against making personal comments on opposition BJP leaders and instead engage them on national and local issues.

After addressing the meetings, Rahul flew to Hassan at 11.15 am to attend the funeral of Belur MLA Y.N. Rudresh Gowda who passed away yesterday. Interestingly, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah arrived at Government House only at 10.45 am.
